Re: Impersonation of the Federal Trade Commission and Unauthorized Use of its Logo on Webpages hosted by Cloudflare

Dear Cloudflare:

I write to inform you that one or more webpages hosted by Cloudflare appear to impersonate the Federal Trade Commission ("FTC") by using its name, logo, and website content without authorization.

As shown in the attached screenshots, [https://ftc-v-credit-glory-llc\[.\]pages.dev/](https://ftc-v-credit-glory-llc[.]pages.dev/) uses the FTC's name and closely resembles past press releases issued by the FTC. See, e.g., FTC Acts to Shut Down 'The Credit Game' for Running a Bogus Credit Repair Scheme that Fleeced Consumers | Federal Trade Commission. Moreover, the attached captures of the webpages show a replica of the FTC's logo in the upper left-hand corner, along with a banner at the top that says "Protecting America's Consumers" in the same font and color as the FTC's own website, www.ftc.gov.

The FTC is not affiliated with the entities or individuals developing these webpages. Please be advised that the Rule on Impersonation of Government and Businesses, 16 C.F.R. § 461, makes it unlawful to "materially and falsely pose as, directly or by implication, a government entity or officer."

We hope to hear from you promptly regarding this important consumer protection matter. In that communication, we would appreciate it if you would please provide data or other information identifying any other webpages associated with [https://ftc-v-credit-glory-llc\[.\]pages.dev/](https://ftc-v-credit-glory-llc[.]pages.dev/). Please respond directly, and direct any questions, to FTC attorney Virginia Rosa, vrosa@ftc.gov, 202-326-3068.

Sincerely,

/s/ Lois C. Greisman
